Given the success of our previous tasting dinners we thought we'd team up once more with Bibendum Wines to bring you a fabulous South Western France inspired tasting dinner. All the wines will be sourced from some fantastic local producers, showcasing the best the region has to offer.

John Crabtree from Bibendum Wines will attend and be on hand throughout to talk us through the wine selection, all of which have been specially chosen to compliment the menu dishes. This is a great opportunity to sample some fantastic regional dishes alongside some great wines.

Mr. John Crabtree: After an early career in the hospitality industry, John found his way into drinks wholesale and then 9 years ago joined Bibendum to focus on the world of wine. Although often glamorised, it must be remembered that this is essentially flogging booze to people that want to buy it and this has enabled John to develop his career in various roles within Bibendum. Currently the Senior Account Manager looking after Oxfordshire and other areas, his passion for wine thankfully dwarfs his actual knowledge.
